Becoming a Catholic Christian

The parish has a year-round/on-going process to assist adults in becoming Catholic. It also has a special program for older unbaptized children. Both can start any time. Call Deacon George (868-2310) for further information

Sacrament of Marriage

Engaged couples begin preparation for the Sacrament of Marriage at least 6 months before their wedding. Please remember—a wedding date will not be scheduled until the assessment of their readiness for the Sacrament of Marriage has been completed. Contact the rectory for more information. Weddings are not scheduled during the Season of Lent.

Anointing of the Sick

The sacrament is for those having surgery, the seriously ill, the chronically ill, and those near death. If you know in advance that you are going to the hospital, call one of the priests to arrange for anointing at home or church. In addition the sacrament is celebrated at church on the first Saturday of the month after evening Mass and on the third Sunday of the month after 8:00 Mass. It may be repeated as needed.

A PLEDGE TO PARISH LIFE

My parish is composed of people like me. I help make it what it is. It will be friendly, if I am. Its pews will be filled, if I help fill them.

It will do great work, if I work. It will make generous gifts to causes, if I am a generous giver.

It will bring other people into its community, if I invite and bring them.

It will be a parish of loyalty and love, of fearlessness and faith, and a parish with a noble spirit, if I, who make it what it is, am filled with these same things.

Therefore, with the help of God, I shall dedicate myself to the task of being all the things that I want my parish to be.

Ultimately ... The Only Law That Really Matters Is ...

The Law of Christ

HOW MUCH TIME DOES IT TAKE for grapes to be fermented into good wine? How much time does it take for a caterpillar to change into a butterfly? How much time does it take for a tiny acorn to become a mighty oak? Real transformation takes time. But the time involved is less critical than the change this time brings about.

The transformation to which Jesus calls us in today's Gospel takes a lifetime of time. We learn only slowly to accept the demands of discipleship. We embrace the Gospel challenge because Jesus has promised that those who serve, those who lose their life and die, will be given fullness of life and a share in his glory. This transformation is worth all the time it takes.

*"As the redeemer of all humanity,
(Jesus) delivered himself up to death for the sake of all:*

*'No one has greater love than this,
to lay down one's life for one's friends.'*

*... by the gift of his Spirit he established, after his death and resurrection,
a new communion of sisters and brothers*

among all who received him in faith and love; this is ... the Church."
2nd Vatican Council, Gaudium et Spes, 32

Our human instinct is not to die, but to cling to life. What Jesus asks in this Gospel truly may not be our first inclination, but in Baptism and with continuing attention can become second nature to all of us. To be faithful disciples we must hand over our life by serving, by putting others' needs ahead of our own, and by dying to self-centeredness. In this way God transforms us and gives us a fullness of life and glory that we cannot even imagine. And this transformation is worth all the time it takes.

When I first learned about this kind of love - unconditional love - I was told that this is The Law of Christ. I learned that - truly unselfish love - changes things more certainly and powerfully than any human law could ever hope to do.

Take some time as you prepare for Easter to remember how much you've been changed by the unconditional love of someone else. Then try to imagine what your love for someone else might truly be able to accomplish.

*"To suffer
with the other and for others;
to suffer for the sake of
truth and justice;
to suffer out of love and
in order to become a person who truly loves
these are fundamental elements
of humanity ..."*
Christian faith brings forth within us "a new and deeper capacity for these kinds of suffering."

Pope Benedict XVI

LAST WEEK I ANNOUNCED HERE that our school has received a $200,000 grant for the 2012-2013 school year from the Annual Catholic Appeal. This grant represents the Archbishop's recognition of our school's commitment to Catholic identity, excellence, and continuing growth. It is also an affirmation of the responsible way in which we are working to insure the viability of our parish and this important ministry of our Church. Your generosity in support of the Appeal and that of Catholics from parishes across the Archdiocese has made this possible. I am deeply grateful! And, I encourage all parish members to pray for our students and the important work our school is doing in this community. In your neighborhood, make sure that every family with children knows about our school

YOUTH GROUP NEWS

We will be having a HOLY THURSDAY RETREAT called LEAD ME TO THE CROSS on April 5th. It is an overnight retreat held at Holy Name Community Center for 8th grade through high school. The purpose is to deepen our understanding of Holy Week and the power of Christ's crucifixion in our lives. Cost $15, forms will be at the back of church. Any other questions call Judy Krenn 761-6570 (youth minister)

Here is another reflection about the pro-life march. Amanda's appreciation is for the amazing people who sponsored individuals on the trip and the youth group and parish that help to defray the costs of this event by $100 per marcher.

I am writing this letter to tell you about my trip to the Washington D.C. for the prolife march that happened on the 23rd of January. Through this trip we had our ups and downs...mostly downs on our way down there. On the bus rides they took hours longer than they should of and other people didn't get to leave on time. When we got there we had a great experience with wonderful speakers and some exciting touring as well with some Masses. On the day of the march we had a great Mass with over 900 Teens and adults attending it. Then we headed off to the march ready and excited to be marching for what we strongly believe in even if we were soaking wet and cold. The rain never stopped while we were marching. When it was all over we can strongly say we met some great people, fought for a cause we cared about, and made a difference in this world..

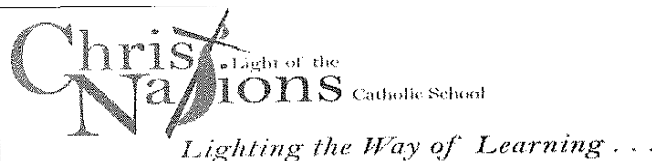

I am so thrilled to of had the opportunity to show what I believe in and what I can do to make abortion gone in the state of Missouri. Even though we did have our ups and downs they ups clearly over threw the downs by 100%. Thank you so much for letting me have this opportunity and experience something I never thought I had the chance to do before. This trip showed me that my voice really does matter no matter how old we are we can make a difference as long as we just believe and try to. Once again thank you so much for this experience and hopefully there won't be a march next year because this march made a hug difference. Amanda Michaels

Water Proofing!

The kindergarten class finished up their weather unit with two experiments about water proofing. For the first experiment, the children used a plastic bag, tissue paper, wax paper, construction paper, and a dry cotton ball. The children took the dry cotton ball and placed it under each item listed above. They squeezed a dropper full of water over each item and then checked to see if the cotton was wet or dry.

The second experiment was about how ducks do not get wet. We read the book "Ducks Don't Get Wet" and learned that ducks preen themselves with oil before getting into water. Their feathers never get wet, because oil and water do not mix. We poured blue water and baby oil into a jar. The children watched how the oil sat on top of the water even after stirring the water and oil together. The children also put a little bit of baby oil on the back of their hand. They took turns pouring water over their hands to see how the water rolls right off. The children loved the hands on experiments.

EMERGENCIES HAPPEN BE PREPARED

Emergencies and disasters can strike quickly. Here are three steps to Preparedness that everyone should have in place.

1. Create a plan for you and your family. Have important numbers in a "quick to get to" place. Carry family contact in your wallet.
2. Prepare an emergency kit which should include:
 - Battery-powered radio
 - Canned or dried food
 - Bottled water
 - Flashlight
 - First-aid kit
 - Prescription medicine
 - Clean clothes and sturdy shoes
 - Extra credit card
 - Extra money
 - Sturdy trash bags.
- 3, Listen for information about what to do and where to go during an emergency.

In the next few weeks, we will be posting evacuation plans for our Church complex. We also will be giving "in-services" as to how to be better prepared for disasters. So please "stay tuned" and take advantage of these safety features.

*Have a wonderful week.

NORTHEAST DEANERY

www.FederationofCatholicSchools.org March 2012 Vol. 2, No. 6

SIGNS OF SUCCESS

The collaboration that has been taking place among the parishes and schools in the Northeast Deanery through our Federation of Catholic Schools is showing positive signs of success. At a recent clergy meeting, John Schwob, Director of Pastoral Planning for the Archdiocese, presented some hopeful statistics to the pastors and priests, most notably that overall enrollment in Federation schools is stable, even with a slight increase!

"Despite the challenges facing our parishes and schools throughout the Archdiocese, it seems that the Federation model in the Northeast County Deanery is working," said Schwob. "The Northeast Deanery was the only deanery whose schools, in total, had an increase in enrollment for the current school year."

Schools are now accepting applications for enrollment for the 2012-13 school year. In alignment with Archbishop Carlson's Mission Advancement Initiative, Federation parishes and schools will work together to ensure that Catholic education is accessible to all families who desire it for their children. Learn more about the Archbishop's priorities for Catholic education at www.archstl.org.

FINE ARTS NIGHT

Thanks to all of the teachers, students and families who participated in the Fine Arts Night held on March 1st at Trinity Catholic High School.

The evening was a great opportunity for students to share their God-given talents and for families from all Federation schools to spend time together as one Catholic community.

A selection of student artwork is available for viewing in an "online gallery" on the Federation website.

PROFESSIONAL LEARNING TEAMS EARN INNOVATION AWARD

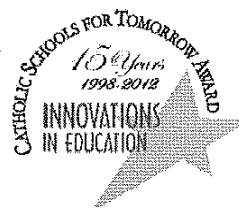

Today's Catholic Teacher magazine has selected the Federation of Catholic Schools as a recipient of a Catholic Schools for Tomorrow Award for innovation with the Professional Learning Teams program. The award annually honors 12 recipients that have led the way by implementing exemplary, innovative programs to improve the teaching and learning of their students, faculty and staffs.

Professional Learning Teams (PLT) were implemented starting in the 2010-11 school year as a way to enhance academic programs at Federation schools by providing collaborative professional development opportunities. All teachers from Federation schools are members of a PLT that either focuses on a grade level or subject area (i.e. kindergarten teachers, science, math, religion teachers, etc.). One teacher from each group serves as the Team Leader to help facilitate discussion and set the group's agenda. Jennifer Stutsman, principal at Blessed Teresa of Calcutta, has provided leadership and direction to the 150 teachers who participate.

"It has been a great success!" said Stutsman. "Teachers went beyond the original meetings to create wikis, develop writing programs between students of different schools, develop a common pre-school curriculum, create a Summer Academy for students with academic needs, and more. Coming together through learning teams has improved the teaching and learning process!"

A group of principals, teachers and pastors will travel to Boston for the National Catholic Education Association convention in April to receive the award on behalf of the Federation.

View the full article from Today's Catholic Teacher online at www.FederationofCatholicSchools.org/award.

STUDENTS OBSERVE LENT WITH PRAYER, FASTING & ALMSGIVING

Catholic identity is evident in our Federation schools as students, teachers and staff observe Lent in ways that are both traditional and creative. St. Angela Merici students act out the Stations of the Cross each Friday. They also have a Lenten path throughout the school where a different theme (i.e. giving thanks, forgiving, etc.) is highlighted each week. A new footprint is placed on the path each week to symbolize the kindness students are doing to help undo all unkindness. The school also holds a "penny war" for the missions.

At Sacred Heart, each Monday the school begins its week with a prayer service with the theme "Step Up Closer to Jesus." Students are given suggestions for how to make their Lenten practice more meaningful. Blessed Teresa of Calcutta School held an "Alleluia burial service" and each classroom has its own daily practices for Lent. Learn more at www.FederationofCatholicSchools.org/Lent.

Connect with the Federation online to get regular updates about our schools in your e-mail inbox. Learn more at www.FederationofCatholicSchools.org or contact us by e-mail at advancement@FederationofCatholicSchools.org.
